PROFILE

Investment professional with a focus on backing early-stage disruptive startups in the consumer and tech-led consumer space. Currently leading venture investments at Wipro Consumer Care Ventures, where we partner with founders across India and SE Asia to build the next generation of iconic brands. With a background in investment banking and a foundation as a Chartered Accountant, I bridge the gap between financial rigor and strategic growth. Passionate about D2C innovation, operational scalability, and supporting "misfit" founders who are redefining consumer needs.
